Editor-in-Chief
Metrology and Measurement Systems

Dear Prof. Specht,

We highly appreciate the great effort of all Authors and their willingness to publish results of their work in the Metrology and Measurement Systems journal. All published papers are relevant to the metrologists' society, however, some of the papers are particularly often noticed and read by researchers.

Your paper entitled "Accuracy assessment of mobile satellite measurements in relation to the geometrical layout of rail tracks", published in Metrology and Measurement Systems in 2019 (vol. 26, no. 2, pp. 309-321) was the most cited article in our journal in years 2019-2020 (according to Web Of Science).

As a token of gratitude, I am enclosing a certificate of an Outstanding Author in 2020. Please also note that you have been tagged on our website www.metrology.wat.edu.pl. Due to unusual problems related to the COVID-19 epidemic, I cannot hand you the diploma in person, so I send it by post.

Thank you for your valuable contribution and I am looking forward to proceed your next articles in our journal!

Yours sincerely,
