Honourable Professor Bradford Parkinson

On behalf of the Poznan University of Technology and myself, please, accept my sincere congratulations on the occasion of conferring on you the degree of DOCTOR HONORIS CAUSA of Gdynia Maritime University.

Your long-term and outstanding contributions to science and technology of the field of global use of satellite navigation systems are outstanding. Through participating in international educational initiatives you promote and spread the science across the globe. You are not only a diligent scientist, but also an ardent advocate of science.

Thank you for being such an inspiration for the next generations of scientists.

I would like to wish you good health, fulfilment and many years of the fruitful work to come.

Yours Sincerely,
